

Meeting Planners Guide

Tennessee State Parks

Tennessee State Parks offer meeting facilities on a year-round basis from one end of the state to the other. All are located just a short drive from Tennessee's major cities. Although the depth of conference and meeting facilities vary from park to park, all have one thing in common: the beauty of natural park settings.

Many meeting facilities are in parks with championship golf courses, sparkling lakes, picturesque hiking trails, and much more. At some parks, business meeting guests can relax by rock climbing, fishing, boating, swimming or horseback riding. At others, they can play a round on a Jack Nicklaus signature Bear trace golf course. Each park offers educational tours and nature programs that add to the value of any meeting.

This guide is offered as a comprehensive list of the meeting facilities found currently in Tennessee's State Parks. But like our state, our facilities and our services are always changing to adapt to guest needs and economic trends. For availability or a current description of the meeting facilities, cabins, inns, restaurants and other services and facilities, we urge you to call the individual park for more information.

Thank you for your patronage.
